Like many of the other posters on this forum, I'm thoroughly pleased with the sword I purchased from Mark. Discussing purchase/payment was an enjoyable experience - something you can't say for the vast majority of e-businesses these days - and the piece arrived safe and sound in the U.S. shortly after the deal concluded.

It's worth noting I was told by the sword's ultimate recipient (my fiancée) "the pictures [on swordsales.eu] don't do the blade any justice"; something I think speaks very highly of the products Mark has on offer. A great-looking sword for a wonderful price...you can't go wrong!

I wanted a high quality antique sword for display in my study. I admit to knowing little (at the moment) about antique swords so I was wary of buying at auction or arms fairs.

I came across the Sword Sales EU web site whilst researching. The site struck me as well constructed, professional and with very full descriptions of the swords for sale.

I saw a couple of swords that I liked the look of (1897 patt. British Infantry). I emailed to request higher resolution pictures. These were promptly sent as were answers to some questions I had. I decided on the one I wanted (Edward VII)

Transfer of the funds was made on Tuesday and I was emailed straight back by Mark to confirm receipt. Postal tracking information was provided and at 9.00 on Friday the package was delivered to me.

The sword had been well packed and had suffered no damage in its journey from Portugal.

The sword was described as "near mint".... I can confirm that it most certainly is....it is in superb condition. I really am delighted by this purchase.

I have no hesitation in giving Sword Sales 10/10 for this transaction.

I have moved the messages relating to the swordsales.eu blogspot nonsense here; swordsales.eu as they are not customer feedback posts for swordsales.eu / antique-swords.eu (which this section is for).

Into the valley of Death
Rode the six hundred.

Cannon to right of them,
Cannon to left of them,
Cannon in front of them
Volley'd & thunder'd;
Storm'd at with shot and shell,
Boldly they rode and well,
Into the jaws of Death,
Into the mouth of Hell
Rode the six hundred.

Flash'd all their sabres bare,
Flash'd as they turn'd in air
Sabring the gunners there,
Charging an army while
All the world wonder'd:
Plunged in the battery-smoke
Right thro' the line they broke;
Cossack & Russian
Reel'd from the sabre-stroke,
Shatter'd & sunder'd.
Then they rode back, but not
Not the six hundred.

Customer Feedback For Antique-Swords.EU

Hello All

We today changed the domain / web site name from swordsales.eu to antique-swords.eu as, to be honest, antique-swords.eu is a more beneficial and appropriate name for the site.

So I have created this new, corrected feedback page which I hope admin here will merge.

Please feel free to continue to leave feedback for us; all appreciated, especially when good!

Thanks Mark for the excellent service on another sword I have purchased from you. When buying antiques over the web from 10,000 miles away, you want to know that you can trust the seller. I am always 100% confident of your integrity, the description, your products quality and that the delivery will be first rate!
